

MAKE THE FALL GARDEN PAY ITS WAY THIS YEAR

Subject of Talk by J. C. Miles of University of Tennessee, at the Junior High.

J. C. Miles, city garden specialist from the division of extension of the University of Tennessee, spoke Thursday night at the Junior High school before a large audience.

Mr. Miles spoke on how to make the fall garden pay its way this year, giving "four reasons for having a fall garden." Mr. Miles said in part as follows:

"The fall garden promotes thrift. It is worked at odd moments and exalts the idea of 'seeing a thing through' to the end.

"The fall garden kills weeds and insect enemies. Constant cultivation prevents weeds going to seed and that lessens the crop next year. Persistent use of sprays kills off each brood of insects and lessens the number to go through the winter.

The fall garden trebles the output from the garden. Three crops can easily be gotten from the garden each year and the fall crop furnishes more food than the spring crop does.

The fall garden feeds the farmer. Don't be afraid of having too much. Rather be afraid of too little. Conserve every ounce of it. Conserved crops will come in handy by the time we get five or ten million men on the way to Berlin.

"The crops that can yet be grown in Tennessee are many. Plant a quart of Country Gentleman corn, a quart of red valentine stringless green pod beans for snap, two quarts of red kidney beans for dried beans, two or three ten-cent packages of Danvers' half long carrot, purple top strap leaf turnip, seven top turnip, early blood beet, one ten-cent package of each of the following: Big Boston lettuce, southern curled mustard, Georgia collard, dwarf German kale, rapid red radish, Dwarf Essex rape, mame curled endive, victoria or biomedale spinach, Brussels sprouts, Alaska peas, Davis Perfect cucumber and parsley.

"If plants are available, cabbage, cauliflower, celery and tomato may be set.

"During early September, additional plantings may be made of snap beans, English peas, lettuce, mustard, collard, kale, radish, turnip, carrot, beet, spinach and rape. Rape will stand the winter and makes exceptionally good greens.

"Prizes taken or Yellow Danvers' onion sets should be planted in October. In West Tennessee, turnips, radish, spinach and peas may be sown during the early days of the month.

"In the late fall sow rape or crimson clover for chickens and also for a green manure crop to turn under in the spring.

"If the ground is dry at planting time pour some water in the furrows, plant, cover and then lay some barnyard or even some boards on the rows. This will conserve the moisture, prevent baking and insure a stand. Remove covering as soon as the plants are through the ground.

"Stir the soil between the rows before the crops come up."

NORTHERN CAMP GIVES SOLDIERS HOT BISCUITS

Sergt. F. A. Scruggs, of Company C, Heavy Tanks, on Leave of Absence.

Sergt. Frank A. Scruggs, of Company C, heavy tanks, who were transferred recently from Gettysburg, Pa., to Camp Overall, at Tobyhanna, is home on a ten days' leave. All the boys of this company are Chattanooga boys and Sergt. Scruggs is one of the first to return. But his leave of absence was made necessary in order to attend to business incidental to fire losses.

He reports that their camp is in an ideal spot and that all Chattanooga boys are well and happy. And, despite the fact of their northern quarters, are permitted to enjoy good old southern cooking, with hot biscuits for breakfast every morning. This is probably because Capt. Andrew Rollins, of Texas, is in command.

"RAMROD SILHOUETTE" HOLDS US STIFFLY TO WOOL CONSERVATION

(By Betty Brown.)
New York.—After a careful inspection of most of the frocks, suits and coats in New York's display of autumn style models I concluded it safe to inform News women readers that the fashionable silhouette is very much up and down! It's called the "ramrod silhouette" and its ideal seems to be to prove that the shortest distance between milady's head and feet is a straight line. It will not yield so much as a faintly curved waistline.

Extreme height and slenderness is the effect desired—and it likewise produces a neat saving in material.

Skirts are a bit longer and correspondingly narrower, averaging only about one and one-half yards for suits to one and three-quarters for dresses. Comparatively held good, but they are comparatively scant, often formed of a corner not otherwise needed.

Perhaps more than any other form of dress, war conditions have affected evening wear. As there is comparatively little dancing and little pretentious entertainment in order, semi-dress or evening dress will answer generally.

He pays high tribute to the canteen workers of Knoxville and Bristol. It seemed very wonderful to the boys, he said, that the soft drinks, hot coffee, sandwiches, cigarettes and post cards were absolutely free.

Sergt. John Shinn, he says, is very happy to have Mrs. Shinn there, the camp is so beautiful.

Mrs. Frank Scruggs has been visiting Sergt. Scruggs and but recently returned. The sergeant is investigating the mysterious fire that destroyed his Rossville bakery.

SEVERAL PUPILS TO GO WITH PROF. KING-SMITH

Group of Vocal Students Unwilling to Give Up Teacher.

Prof. and Mrs. August King-Smith will close their music studio on Houston street next week preparatory to leaving for Washington, D. C., where they will reside. The loss of Prof. King-Smith to his pupils seems to be regarded so seriously that a number of them—probably eight or ten—will go with Prof. and Mrs. King-Smith to Washington. Among these are Miss Dorothy Tarwater, Miss Ann Rymer, Miss Mary Joe Houston, Miss Mary Ward Hatcher, Miss Louise Henson and Victor Houston. A number of others will decide the question of going definitely this week. One of Prof. King-Smith's most prominent pupils, J. Victor Golbarr, is already in Washington, having entered government service some weeks ago.

In matters of systematic vocal instruction and choral organization, Prof.

King-Smith has been without his peer among music professors hereabouts. His pupils have attested his skill in the development, in many instances, of extraordinary voices. As head of the Sinfonia society his concert work has brought together on many occasions all the musicians in the city. One of his decided musical achievements was, recently, a finished presentation by his pupils of the Gounod "Faust," with its difficult roles artistically sustained.

Mrs. Grayce King-Smith bears with her the affection of scores of Chattanooga children, whose music intuition she has been bringing out, as exponent of the Fletcher method.

Miss Mattie James, now in Boston, under training of Evelyn Fletcher Copp, the founder, will continue the work in Chattanooga done by Mrs. King-Smith.

Miss James is also director of the Junior Music club.

SOLDIERS EN ROUTE TO EUROPE WELL CARED FOR

Soldier boys preparing to go overseas are naturally interested in what they are going to eat while on the transport. Here is a sample bill of fare taken from an exchange.

Breakfast—Tox sausage, boiled potatoes, canned fruit, bread and butter, coffee.

Dinner—Roast beef, succotash, bread and butter, coffee.

Supper—Cold corned beef, vegetable salad, jam, cake, bread and butter, coffee.

It is apparent that the above is an appetizing group of "eats." Soldier boys are instructed to leave clean plates.

BRADLEY DUNLAP IS NOW ENSIGN IN U. S. NAVY

Bradley Dunlap, a former student in the University of Chattanooga, has received his commission as ensign in the United States navy, and expects to receive his orders within ten days, according to news received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dunlap, of Boynton Terrace.

He was the youngest man in a naval class of forty-two, and successfully passed his examination with a high rating. He is in New Orleans, at the Eighth naval station. When the young man enlisted he was not yet 21, and was in his third year of the university.

Everyone who saw the play "Green Stockings" given by the dramatic club of the university last winter will remember Bradley Dunlap. He scored a popular success in the leading part, and made a splendid appearance in the role of an English officer.

Mr. Dunlap was recently at home on a furlough.

CAMP LIBRARIES CONTINUE TO ENLIST MUCH FAVOR

Miss Margaret Dunlap, librarian of the Chattanooga public library and one of the first to begin the establishment of camp libraries, is much pleased, she states, over the progress of the work in the various camps of the country. While the work of distributing reading matter among the soldiers at Fort Oglethorpe is progressing rapidly there is also a marked progress in all cantonments. Miss Dunlap accordingly presents the following general summary as gotten out by the American Library association:

36 camp library buildings erected.
41 large camp libraries established.
91 hospitals and Red Cross houses supplied with books.
212 librarians in the service.
227 small military camps and posts equipped with book collections.
249 naval and marine stations and vessels supplied with libraries.
1,223 branches and stations placed in Y. M. C. A. and U. S. C. huts, barracks and mess halls.
285,310 books shipped overseas.
411,505 books purchased, largely technical.
2,100,000 gift books in service.

LIBRARY COLLECTING BOOKS FOR SOLDIERS

Miss Margaret Dunlap, librarian of the Chattanooga public library, announces that books are still being collected at the library for the soldiers, and will be as long as there are any soldiers at Fort Oglethorpe. Books of adventure and good wholesome stories are desired, also magazines of popular interest. Any one having a book to spare from their shelves may leave it at the library and it will be sent to the army post library.

NEWS OF THE ARRIVAL OF JAMES WARREN OVERSEAS.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Warren, of Highland Park, have received news of the safe arrival of their son, James Warren, Jr., overseas. He is with the Seventeenth machine gun battalion, in the medical department. This is the second son that Mr. and Mrs. Warren now have overseas. Sergt. Robert E. Warren landed seven weeks ago. He is with the 114th field artillery, and was at Camp Sevier previous to leaving for a port of embarkation.

MR. AND MRS. C. M. HARRIS ENTERTAIN GUESTS.

Mrs. John E. Hancock, of Charleston, W. Va., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Harris in Highland Park. Mrs. Hancock is a sister of Mrs. Harris. Mr. and Mrs. Harris also have as their house guests Misses Ruth and Lorena Tindler, nieces of Mr. Harris, from Birmingham. Ronald Harris is on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Don Lewis, in Charleston, W. Va.

PICNIC SUPPER FOR BOYS ENTERING THE SERVICE

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Howard chaparroned a party of young people to Ryall's springs Monday evening, where a picnic supper was served. The occasion was planned in honor of B. T. Shepard and W. T. Green, who are leaving shortly for military service. Those in the party were: Misses Billie Rogers, Dora Cade, Mildred Stephenson, Geneva Harris, Lora Thaxton, Beth Harris, Messrs. Wm. T. Green, B. T. Shepard, B. Watts, Jack Gould, Wheeler Frazier, George Ray.

WOOL TEA SOCIAL FINANCIAL SUCCESS

Besides being one of the most delightful social events of the summer season, the wool tea given by the National League for Women's Service, Thursday afternoon, was a financial success. The funds derived are to be used to pay for a large order of wool to be knitted into socks for the soldiers. One hundred and seventy dollars was taken in at the gate, and other amounts to be turned in are expected to raise the amount another hundred. The local Rotary club made a donation of $27.

The tea was given on the lawn of the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Brawner, on Oak street. Besides its beautiful natural verdure, the lawn was adorned with flags and flowers. Tables were placed about the lawn and punch was served. The punch bowls were adorned with tempting bunches of grapes hanging over the edge. Card tables filled a large space and a soft drink booth was gaily dressed in the national colors.

At one end of the lawn a piano was placed and a musical program was given by two young men from the recruiting station at Fort Oglethorpe, Arnold of Boston, violinist, from Gault, Central America, and Walter H. Nash, accompanist, from Washington, D. C. Henry Lupton, also from the fort, assisted. The program rendered was Liebespand-Kreisler; "The Old Refrain," Kreisler; Minuet in G, Beethoven; Serenade, Brdia; Souvenir, Brdia.

Mrs. John Lamar Meek, president of the Tennessee federation of music clubs, and a most talented composer and vocalist, gave several patriotic selections, including one of her own compositions, entitled, "Oh, It's Good-bye to the Hun." She was accompanied by Mrs. John Fouché. The musical numbers were followed by fancy dancing on the lawn by Miss Inez Hyder's pupils, including a number of Grecian dances and fancy steps given by solo performers, Miss Josephine McCleary introduced the dancers. The music was furnished by Mrs. Robert Manning and Miss Helen Winn, violinist. Those dancing were Misses Marjory Hyder, Delta Mishler, Frances Powell and Jane Gillman. Miss Alma Dickenson dressed as flower girl sold boutonniers. Miss Mary Collingwood Tucker, of Keokuk, Ia., was dressed in a blue silk colonial costume.

Mrs. William Leigh Marshall, of Richmond, Va., was one of the distinguished guests.

From the conservatory to the billiard room, the doors there was a profusion of flowers. Large sunflowers added a bright yellow color to the potted plants of the conservatory. In the dining room a rich lace cloth was spread on the table over pink, and the center pieces, a group of vases, were filled with pink roses which reflected themselves in a surface mirror. Around these was a border of snow-on-the-mountain and baskets of roses. The mantels and buffets were a shower of pink roses. The cut flowers were donated by the three florists, Haeger, Joy and Crouch.

Mrs. E. Fenton Moore, chairman of the knitting committee, and Mrs. P. A. Brawner, took the tickets at the gate. Miss Josephine Danforth exhibited a knitting machine in the house. Mrs. John Fouché sold French luck dolls. Miss Virginia Brown, assisted by members of the godmothers served punch on the lawn. Among the godmothers assisting the league in a general way were: Misses Eulalie Riggs, Josephine McCleary, Dorothy James, Elizabeth Jones, Adelle Lowery, Mildred Jackson and Lucille Bayol.

Serving tea were: Mrs. C. M. Williamson, Mrs. H. D. Huffaker, Mrs. T. C. Betterton, Mrs. P. J. Kruesi, Mrs. A. J. Gahagan, Mrs. W. H. Cooper, Mrs. J. A. Patten, Mrs. John Hutcheson, Mrs. S. B. Smith, Mrs. Griscorn, Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Blair. The program committee was composed of Mrs. L. G. Browne, Mrs. Herman Ferger, Mrs. Boyd, Miss Mollie Kavanaugh, Mrs. Harry Ewings and Mrs. Hazenburt. The silver offering committee included Mrs. F. C. McCleary, Mrs. J. B. Lauderbach, Mrs. James Card, Mrs. W. H. Marshall, Mrs.

Henry Eagar and Mrs. Francis Lynde. Mrs. E. Fenton Moore, chairman of the tea, was assisted by Mrs. P. A. Brawner, Mrs. D. P. Montague, Mrs. M. G. Howard, Mrs. Sol Lesinsky, Mrs. Perry Pyffe, Mrs. M. M. Allison, Mrs. R. Goodman, Mrs. E. Y. Chapin, Mrs. C. C. Nottingham, Mrs. L. M. Coleman, Mrs. Charles Hyde, Mrs. Morris Temple, Mrs. Ed Watkins, Miss Josie Danforth, Mrs. Hewitt Wood, Mrs. D. E. Beckham, Mrs. F. L. Underwood, Mrs. Theo King, Mrs. C. E. Buck, Mrs. James Wiggs, Mrs. M. N. Whitaker, Mrs. Margaret Harris, Mrs. Joe Brown, Mrs. Tom Selman and Miss Armstrong and Miss Macpherson.

There will be a buffet supper and dance at the Lookout Mountain club house Saturday night.
